Smile... You're on

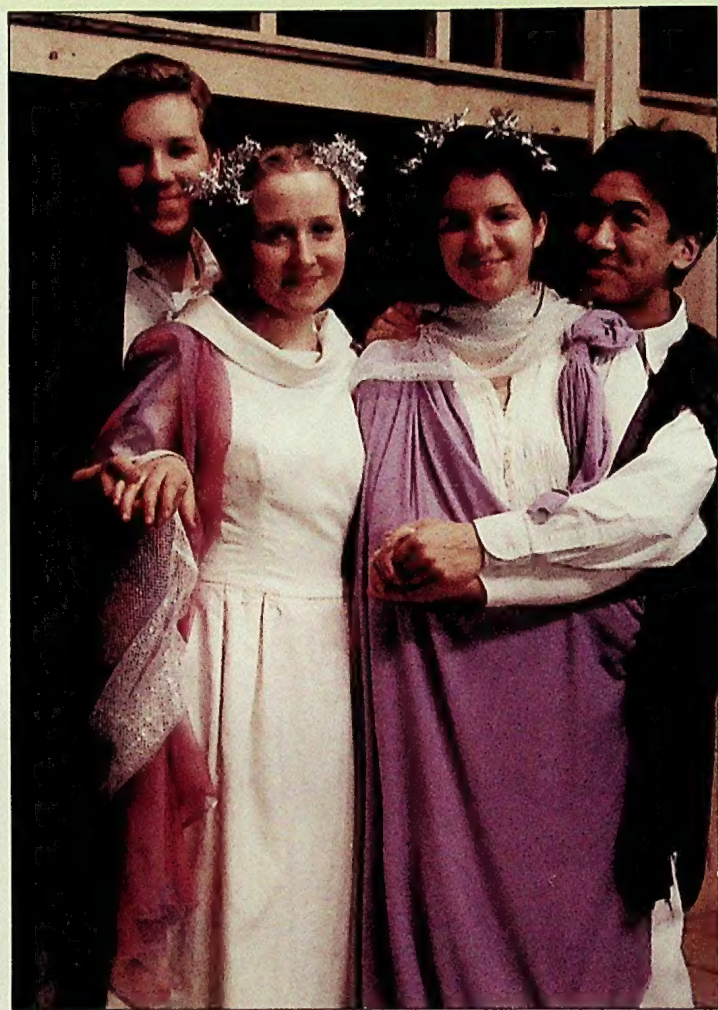

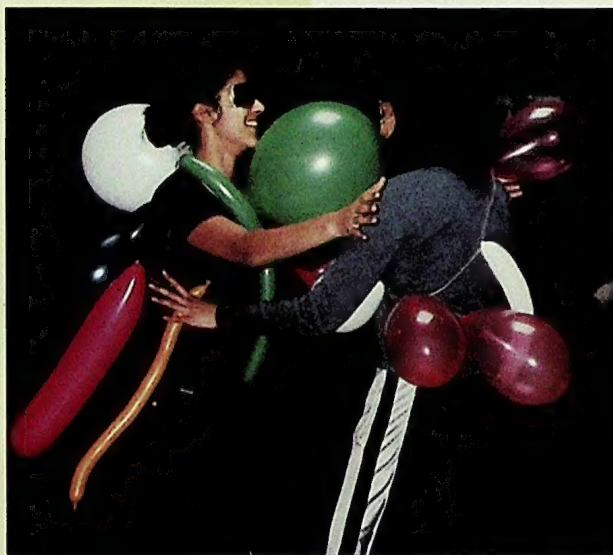

Life and smiles, a way to live. Why not spend everyday with a smile plastered on the face? It takes less muscles to smile than it does to frown. Not only that, but if the face is stuck that way, it looks good. Seriously though, a smile will definitely brighten the day for anybody, even the person who smiles. Give in to the smiley faces. SMILE! Remember that you're on Ainlay's camera. (It's only picture perfect if there's a smile.)

Ainlay's Camera!

From wacky to classy and razzle to dazzle Ainlay has it all. With approximately two thousand creative Titans, almost anything goes with fashion.

Dazzling Duds

Food for Thought...

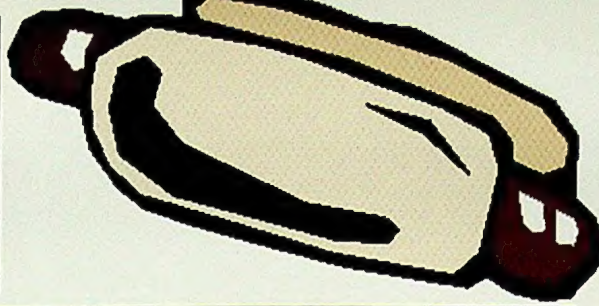

Severday feeds you a few more knowledgeable facts, whether it's for nonsensical fun or everyday use. Do you actually sit down everyday for a few moments just to ponder about the unanswerable? Or at least even to relive the day, correcting the mistakes and showering in the "smart" moments? Odd how seconds tick and minutes go by without us really taking notice.

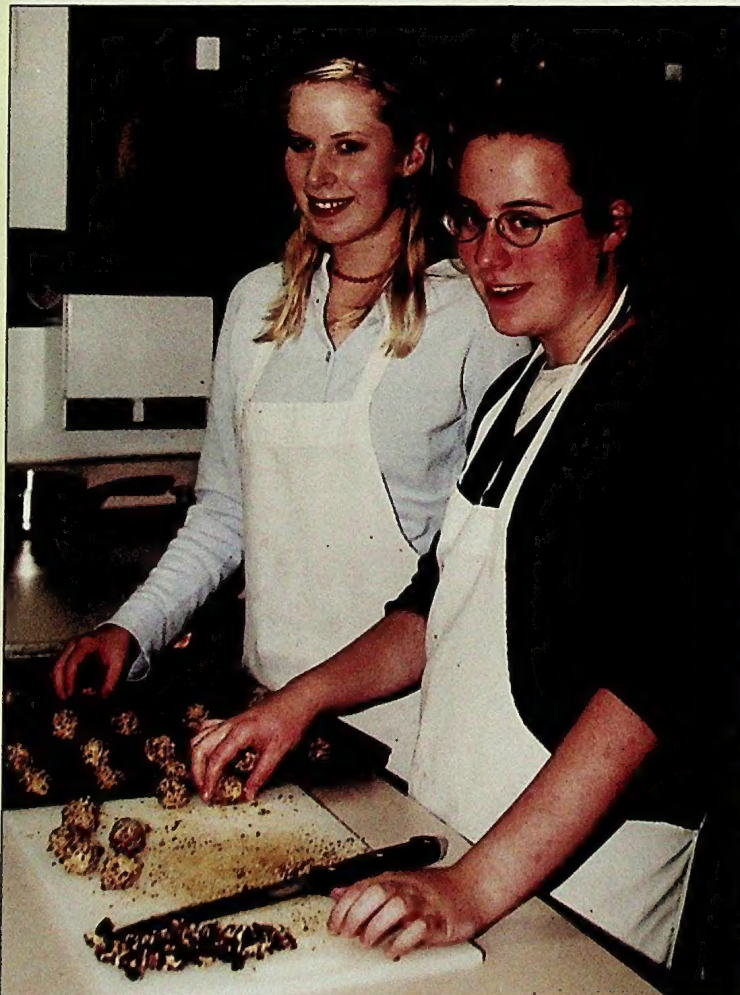

It doesn't really matter if we check the time and account for how much of it is spent with useless stuff or not. After all, our whole life consists of reliving memories and making memories.

Hard to believe we've reached the end of the millennium, a new era of time. It's really not that big of a deal.

Perhaps everyone will keep on going without really noticing. Try to sit and wonder about what really goes on. Take the time to just relax and watch. It could really satisfy your curiosity for just about anything. Hey, it's only a little food for thought. You don't have to take it seriously.

 All work and no play makes a Titan a dull person. Yet, of course, Titans never have this problem as there is always something "quirky" going on in Ainlay's playground.

From the 20th annual Titan Volleyball Tournament to simply playing "hacky" sacks, Titans are always busy having fun, fun and more fun. However, Ainlay's playground extends beyond Harry Ainlay High School ... There was the Skills Canada Boat Race at Kinsmen Sports Centre and Education week at Southgate.

Ainlay's Playground

It doesn't matter where Titans are, fun is always lurking around the corner, waiting to jumpstart their days. That's what makes Ainlay's playground what it is.

Friendship

Friends: those who are always there for you. The people you form the special bond with, known as Friendship. Throughout life, many friends come and go, and many are met through school. Together, you face problems and support each other during rough times. You teach and learn from each other. But the best part of it is having fun! Goofing off and having a good time makes school worth all the work.

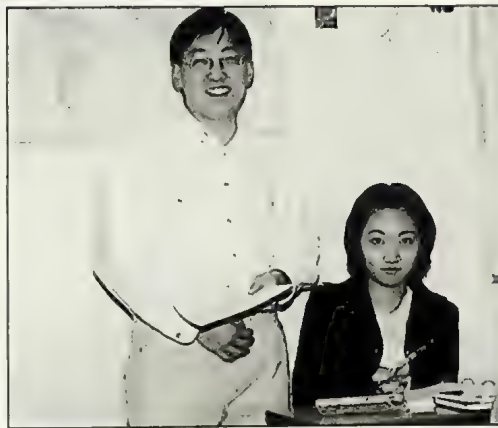

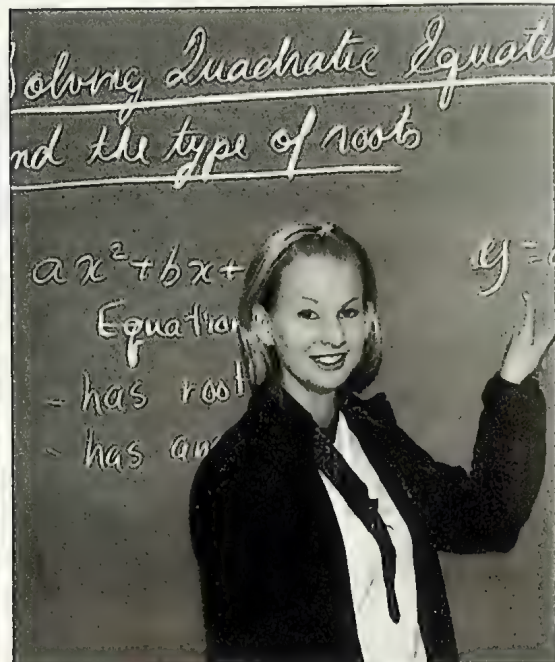

All those lunch hours and breaks wandering aimlessly around, trying to find something interesting to do but coming up with nothing. Yet, it was time not wasted because you had the chance to share secrets and stories. Friends will always be there for each other because friends are for life.

A year at Ainlay is very busy, but a Titan always finds a way to have fun! It's definitely been an interesting year, and, once again, the activities at Ainlay were endless...but you didn't have to look to a club or rotunda activity to find proof. All you had to do was look over your shoulder or around the corner and you were bound to catch someone showing off their Titan Spirit!

Caught in the Act

Ainlay staff and students work, live and play together in the hallways and classrooms of the school. Together we shape the destiny of 'Titans Beyond 2000'.

Principal's Message

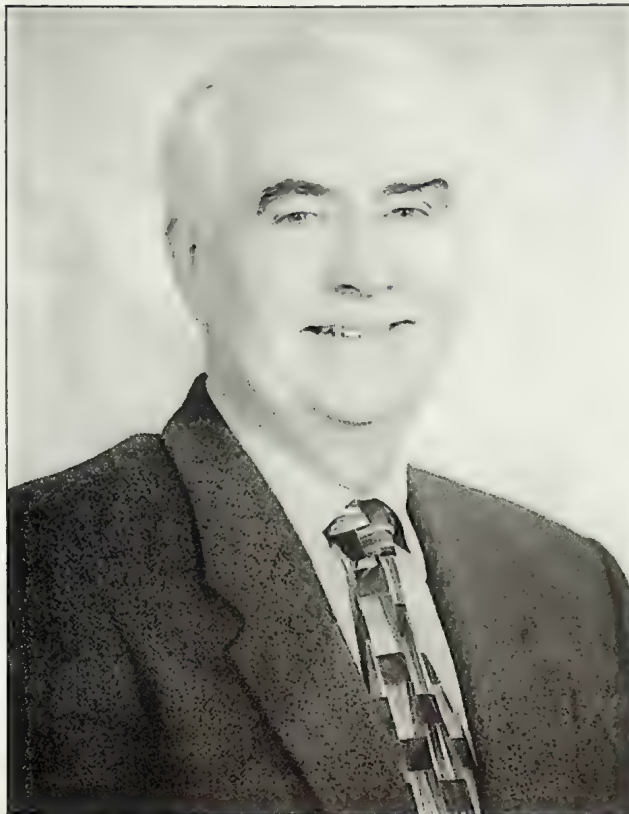

This yearbook is a treasure. It is your personal time capsule of the end of one century and the beginning of another. It also chronicles in word and photo some of your experiences as you stood on the threshold of a new century, a new millennium, a new world.

The year that bridged the centuries is now the stuff of personal legend. Outside of our ever changing memories, this book is part of our comprehensive visual recollection of this centennial and millennium year. It shows our victories, our joys, maybe even a little sadness but above all, it shows our uniqueness. We began the year in the 20th Century and ended it in the 21st. It will be a hundred years before anyone can have this experience again. More important, there never has been, nor will there ever be again, an experience exactly like the times that are chronicled in these pages.

Harry Ainlay provided the focus for this year of study, achievement, fun and personal growth. Many of the things that we gained from one of our most formative experiences, our school, are illustrated here through pictures and words. Another year of Ainlay's traditions are brought to you by the work and talent of a dedicated editor, staff and advisors.

May this book help us all, students and staff alike, to look back with fondness on how we said goodbye to one century and welcomed another. And, as we go forward in our lives, may it help us better recollect the way we were, and what, and who, touched our lives this year.

Best wishes to all,
M. B. Demaine, Principal

Grade 10 is a dramatic change from Junior High. Walking into the halls of Ainlay with 2000 students milling around during class changes gives a real feeling of what makes the essence of the school. Within a few short weeks of September, all students mingle together and become Titans.

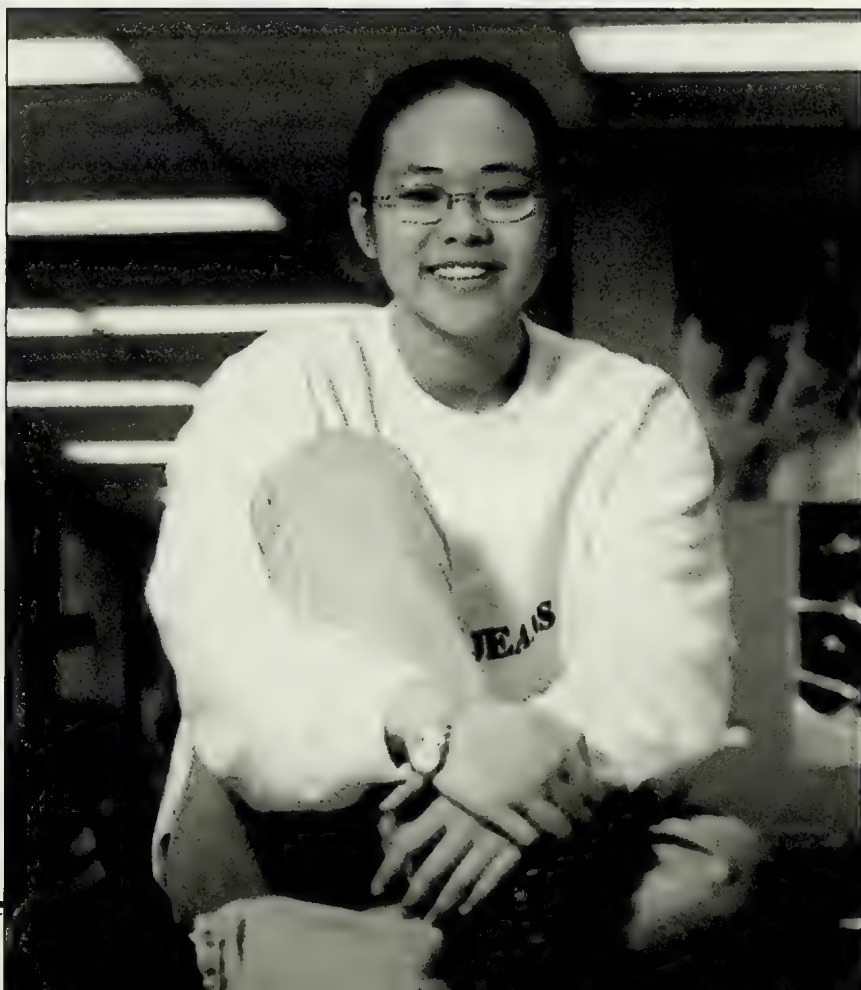

Titans can be found everywhere - in classrooms, in the gymnasium, in hallways, in CTS labs, and hanging around lockers. Titans of all grade levels are 'Reaching Beyond 2000'. All the happy faces show the true spirit of Harry Ainlay.

Grade 11 Candids

What a great year it is! Grade 10 is now a distant memory and courses are well established. Friendships have been established and interests in clubs and athletics extend interests beyond the classroom. We really are reaching out to 'Titans Beyond 2000.'

The sheer size of Harry Ainlay results in the very strength that students and staff have come to enjoy. With over 2000 students and 100 staff members, a wide variety of course offerings is possible. The core program offers the well known programs of English, Science, Math, and Social Studies. The International Baccalaureate program offers opportunities for students who have decided that a post-secondary university education is the direction that they want to take. An extensive Fine Art program gives students experiences in drawing, painting, pottery, band, choral music, and drama. The Career and Technology program offers thirteen different subjects that students can choose from. Information Processing, Communication Technology, Food Studies, Construction Technology and Automotives are but a few of the offerings.

Curricular

Career & Technology Studies

Career and Technology Studies offers thirteen strands, or subjects, that students can choose from, including Cosmetology, Communication Technology, Fashion Studies, Food Studies, Design Studies, Fabrication Studies, Information Processing, Legal Studies, Management and Marketing, Enterprise and Innovation, Construction Technology, and Automotives. All courses place an emphasis on interactive activities where students 'learn by doing.' This activity approach is very popular. Some programs such as Cosmetology, Automotives and Construction Technology can also be used for advanced credits at the post-secondary level. The CTS department encourages students to participate in the Registered Apprenticeship Program (RAP), where students can work on the job, get a salary, obtain CTS credits, and accumulate hours towards an apprenticeship.

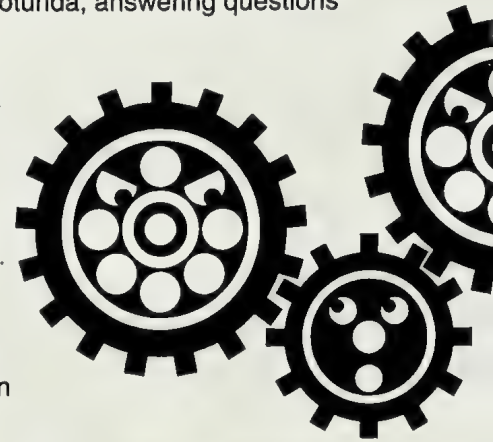

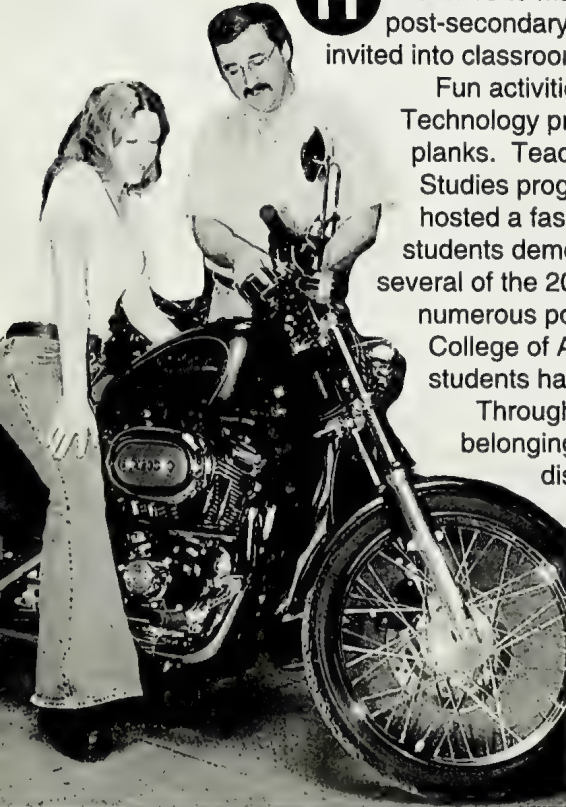

CTS Week - School Energy

Harry Ainlay hosted the third consecutive Career and Technology Studies Week, which ran from March 13 to March 17. This initiative concentrates on CTS curriculum and promotes linkages to post-secondary institutions and working environments. During the week, guest speakers were invited into classrooms.

Fun activities were also held in the rotunda during the noon hours. The Construction Technology program had a nail driving competition where participants raced to drive spikes into planks. Teachers and students competed with one another and had a great time. The Food Studies program had students demonstrate the fine art of perogy making. Fashion Studies hosted a fashion show where students displayed garments that they created. Design Studies students demonstrated CAD and architectural models. Heritage Harley Davidson displayed several of the 2000-model motorcycles, much to the delight of the student population. On Friday, numerous post-secondary institutions, including NAIT, Grant MacEwan and the Alberta College of Art, set up displays during the noon hour in the rotunda, answering questions students had about their programs.

Throughout the week, five Edmonton photographers belonging to The Professional Photographers of Canada displayed several custom images in the art gallery of the school. NAIT students in the Photography program also set up a photographic display. Walter Tychnowicz, an Edmonton Sun photographer, came into Communication Technology classes and discussed photography as a career.

CTS Week was once again a resounding success. Look forward to next year and an even bigger initiative.

Who Wants To Be ...

You have no life ... I mean life lines left.
For $1.00, what is IB?

1. What is C.A.L.M. week?
 - a. no homework = party
 - b. kindergarten all over again
 - c. people writing up a lab in front of an oven
 - d. a week of perpetual silence
2. What is homework?
 - a. ever heard of copying?
 - b. ICQ
 - c. Huh?!
 - d. a stack of papers

3. What is an I.B. "jock"?
 - a. guy sitting on the bench
 - b. guy running away from the ball
 - c. guy covering his head
 - d. guy who can do push-ups with the bio textbooks on his back
4. What is cramming?
 - a. a guy sleeping on pillow (janitor in the background)
 - b. two people kissing, surrounded by papers
 - c. someone studying at a party
 - d. using toothpicks to keep your eyes open

An I.B. Student?

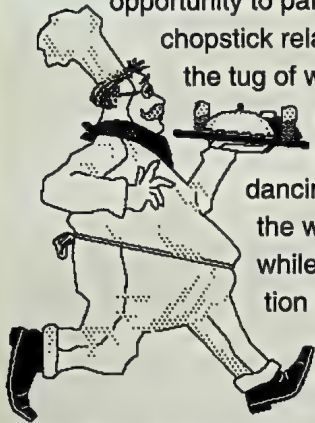

If you answered correctly to the above questions, then you are officially qualified to be an I.B. student. Unfortunately, there is a bit more to I.B. than this! This program enhances your already "toned" skills and expands on them. It is essentially an advanced academic program which takes the student to a higher level, as a matter of fact, to the university level. The learning environment is quite "stimulating" with all the knowledgeable teachers and the challenging program.

In fact, Harry Ainlay is recognized internationally as one of the largest and most successful I.B. schools in the world. The program aids in the development of self-confidence and responsibility. Despite the large loads of stress (imposed on the teachers and the students), I.B. students become extremely well-prepared for university. So, for all you highly qualified I.B. students, good on ya!

Second Languages Week

Every year for the last fifteen years, we have our Second Languages Week at Harry Ainlay. The food served in the cafeteria each day was great as usual, featuring Japanese, German, Spanish and French dishes. Posters made by the Grade 10s decorated our school beautifully. The Japan festival, organized by the students, attracted a large audience to the school. Moreover, in the rotunda, students had the opportunity to participate in activities, such as the chopstick relay, wasabi eating contests and the tug of war. Big events were complimented by equally interesting smaller events, including dancing and presentations. Throughout the week, trivia contests baffled all, while the Web page design competition brought out Ainlay talent. All those who participated enjoyed themselves. Thank you to all those who helped out.

Core Subjects

The courses at Harry Ainlay do not only provide information, but also a place where friends and caring teachers can be together. Each five-credit mandatory class, including mathematics, social studies, science and english, teaches a different aspect and perspective of life.

These courses are available in many different levels to suit each and every student. Although core subjects are not as fun as some of the options available at Ainlay, they are mandatory. However, with a positive attitude, they can be just as fun! Even look at the great labs and assignments you get to learn and do!

Units, like Napoleon, World War I, World War II, Hitler and Stalin, give Titans a taste of the past.

With topics such as functions, quadratics and calculus in math, we get to see the more difficult problems aside from the usual $1 + 1 = ?$

"To be or not to be" in English class is not the question. English is a must and, with the teachers at Ainlay and books like Great Expectations, Pride and Prejudice, The Stone Angel, Hamlet, and MacBeth, why would you want to miss a class?

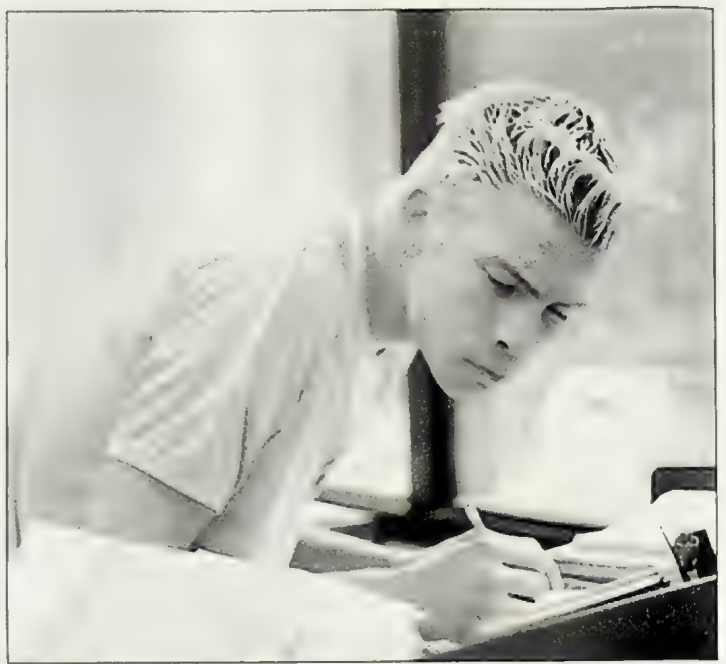

The branches of Science divide into Chemistry, Biology and Physics. While Chemistry students may not get the chance to blow up the lab room...they do, however, learn the interesting facts of solids, liquids and gases.

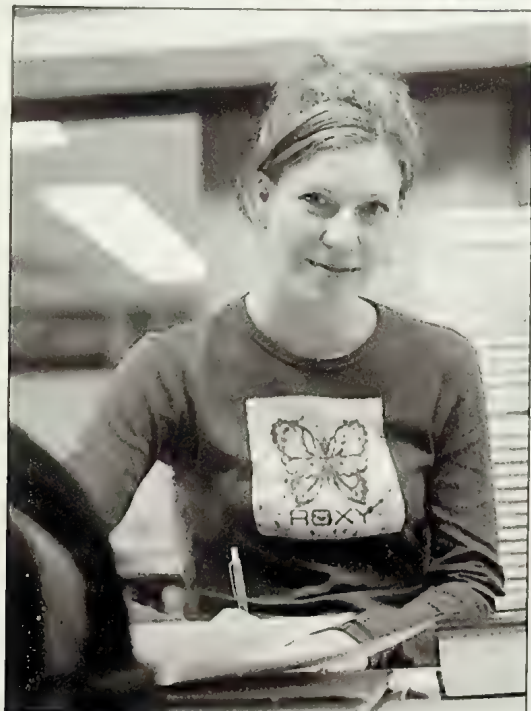

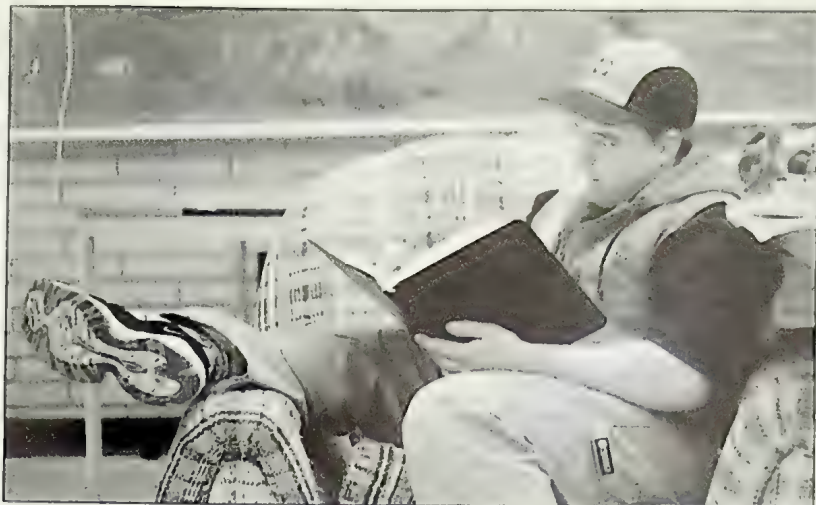

Biology students not only learn the processes of mitosis and meiosis, but also the anatomy and physiology of the eye and heart in frogs, worms and fetal pigs. Physics students gets to play with the best toys, as some teachers may say (right Mr. Sprysak?). Equipment like the electroscope and spark timer, make Physics that much more cool.

Art Expressions

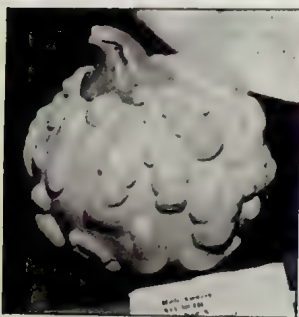

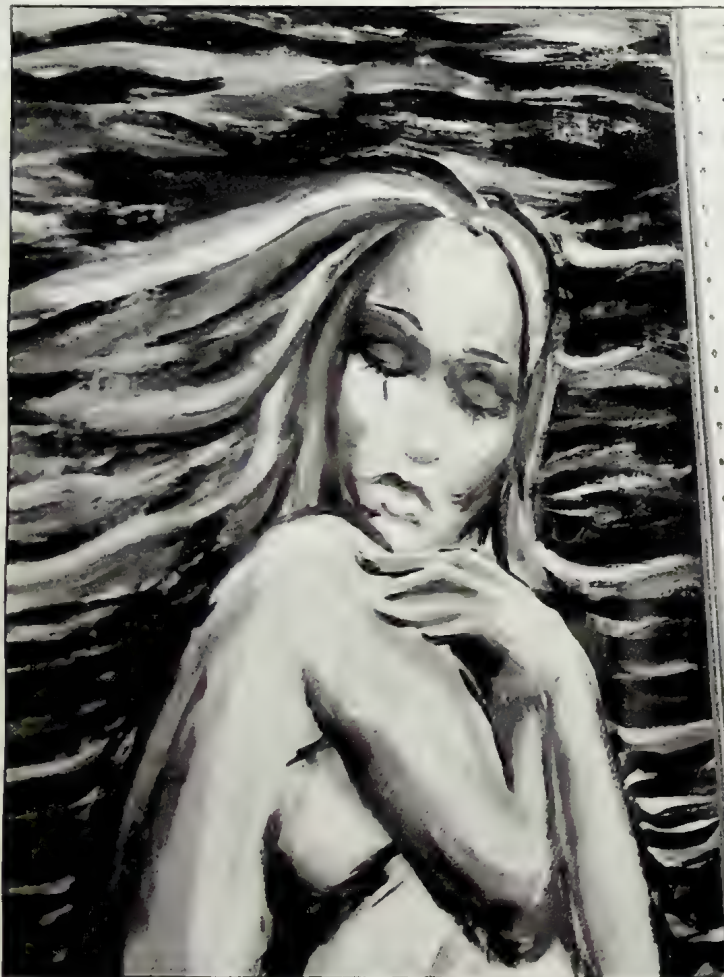

Unlike some subjects, art gives students the freedom to express, create and explore themselves without limitations. With self determination and Mr. Miller's guidance, art students are able to surpass average high school capabilities. Whether it be a painting by Picasso, a sculpture by Michelangelo, or just a sketch on the side of your math notes of that guy or girl two seats ahead of you, art affects all our lives. We express ourselves through it, relate to it and even imitate it. The art students this year were very devoted to their works and sacrificed much of their free time to give the Ainlay community a true appreciation of visual beauty in art.

IB Art Show

This year 21 students completed the I.B. Art 30 program, with one student challenging the higher level. Dr. Simpson examined Robert Annett, Joan Bancroft, Megan Bertagnolli, Krystal Cheong, Meghan Jones, Joanne Kienholz, Don Lee, Sean Lin, Grace Lok, Christine Onyschuk, Erika Sanchez, Taylor Schaerer, Jennifer Sprague, Vivi Trinh, Ishani Weera, Adrienne Wong, Aimee Wong, Rebecca Zak, Xueming Zhao, Mirey Lopez and Iren Kossintseva. Our I.B. Show was held from April 10 - 30 in the Harry Ainlay Art Gallery with our reception on April 14th. We had food, music, great art and a huge crowd to complete a successful high school art show.

Symphonic Band

The 1999-2000 school year was another outstanding year for the Harry Ainlay Music Department. We started the year off with our annual music camp out at Camp Nakamun, a great time was had by the 140 students in attendance. In October, Harry Ainlay was represented in the ABA Provincial honor Band by James Carson and Jeremy Maitland.

CBC Radio Canada came to the school in November and recorded the Symphonic Band playing Christmas selections for rebroadcast throughout the Christmas season. December concerts featured all of the performing groups. March was a busy month beginning with the EPS Night of Music. Then, at the Alberta International Music Festival, Symphonic Band received GOLD and Concert Band received SILVER.

Concert Band

March was also the month that the Edmonton Symphony premiered James Carson's "Prelude for Orchestra". In May, we performed our third annual Winds at the Winspear concert.

Germany Trip

Over Spring Break a band of 50 students travelled to Germany to perform in several concerts. They even received a great review in a German newspaper. Everybody had a great time and we look forward to being able to do this again.

Performances at Commencement and Awards Night filled out the month of May. Final concerts were held in June at the school and the Yardbird Suite. All in all, it was a very busy and successful year for the music department.

Stage Bands and Choirs

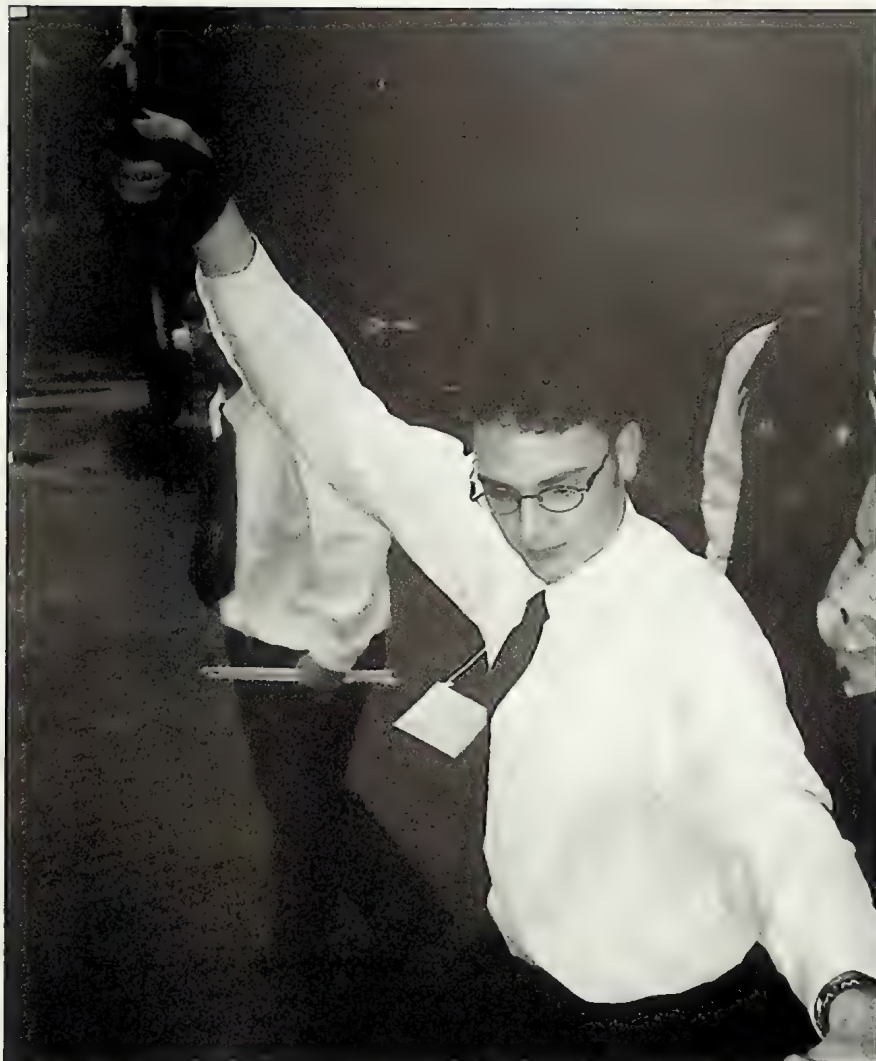

In February, the 19th annual Big Band Bash was held at the German Canadian Cultural Association. Over 200 people enjoyed a first class meal with dance music, followed by school concerts. In March, at the Alberta International Music Festival, both Stage Bands received SILVER. The year-end concert was held at the Yardbird Suite in June. It was a rousing success with the audience listening intently to every note from the lips of the singers and from the bells of their instruments.

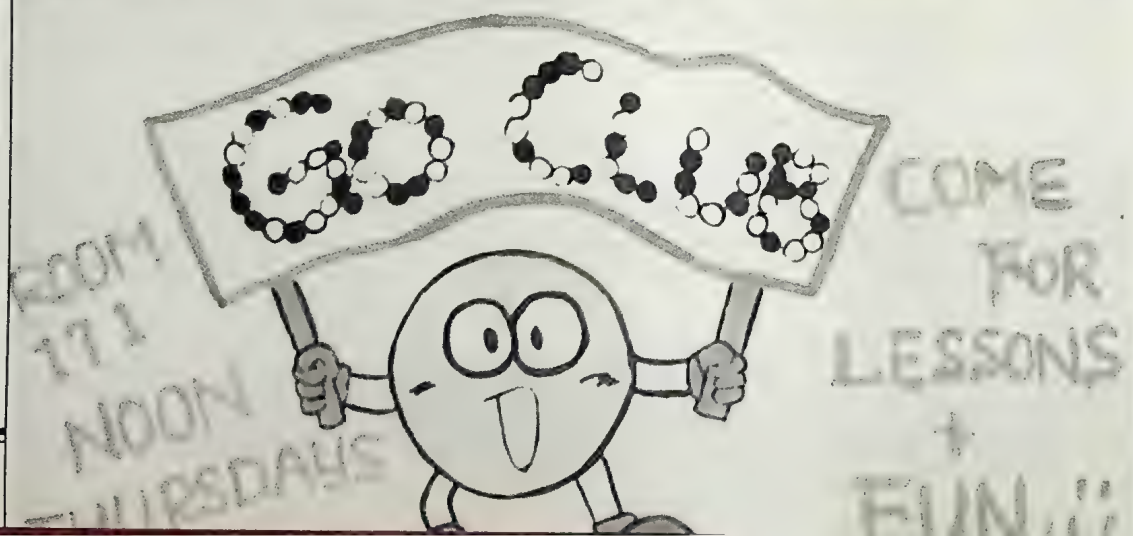

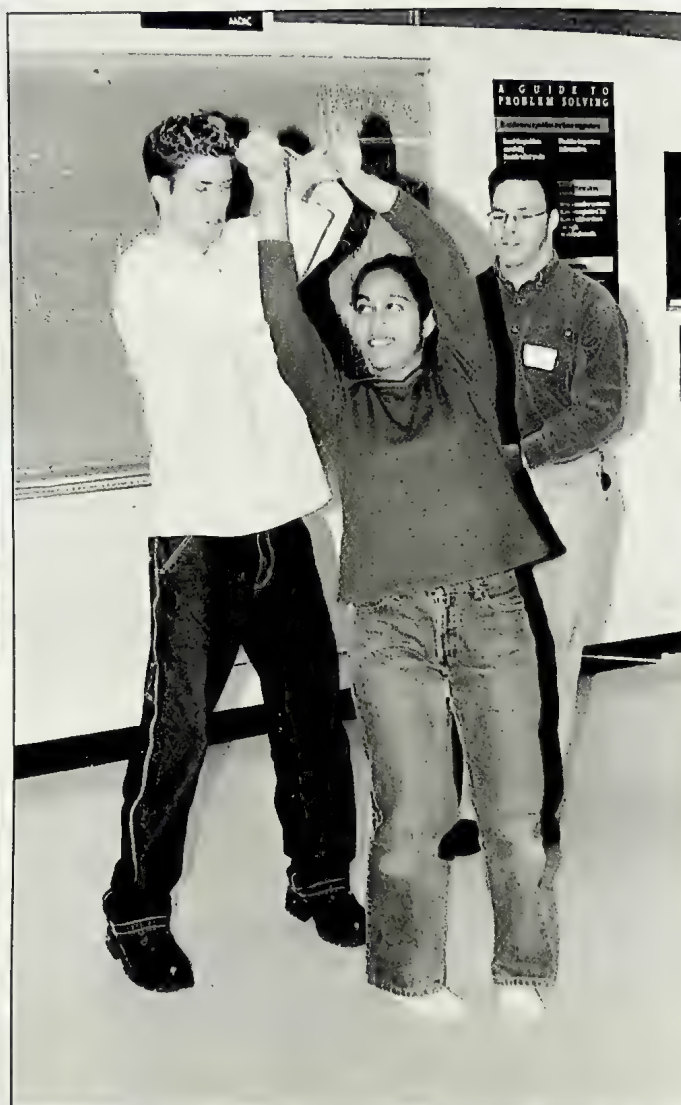

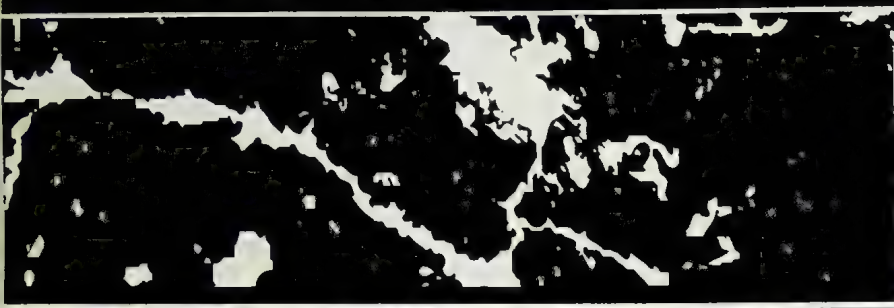

Whistler Trip

The day we had all been waiting for since the beginning of the school year had finally arrived. It was the day we left on our annual BAND TRIP! In April, 130 students went on their annual Spring Music tour. This year, they travelled to the Whistler Music Festival in Whistler, B.C. Symphonic Band, Girl's Chorus and Concert Band all received SUPERIOR ratings there.

Clubs

Origami Club

The art of paper folding called origami comes alive into action every Wednesday at lunch. Beauty is captured in paper with a few simple folds. Various shapes and objects are made with folds and manipulations in the paper. Objects such as birds, animals, flowers, and the simple crane are created each week by the members. It is an art for masters, beginners, the young, or the young at heart.

The crew aboard the Titanic doesn't just lounge around all day. They are out there searching for the best stories, the best pictures, and the best contests. For what, you ask? Why, for their school of course! Made up of the many editors and executive members, these people make the newspaper of the school happen, but only the support of your articles, input and numerous TLQs. With this hard-working group, the Titanic is still sailing.

Anime & Manga

As awareness for Japanese comic art and animation expands, the Anime club comes to accomodate many new members. It has been an exciting year for the leadership and the general members as we conducted various activities, including Anime week and drawing contests. The translation project sailed along nicely and our weekly video showing has been a hit with at least thirty members showing. Our advisor, Mr. Ito, has been a guiding light, and as the presidents graduate, we wish the best for the club and its members.

Mountain Biking Club

Although not as formal as previous years, two students from the mountain biking club, Kerri Crozier and Chris Hiebert, ventured into the rockies on the Easter long weekend. Not expecting the trails to be covered in snow, an interesting route was achieved, resulting in a very exciting trip. The Rocky Mountain trails in Canmore were spectacular and proved to be a great place for taking photographs. At the end of the weekend, although drenched and covered in mud, they had a blast and were looking forward to going back.

Go Club

The modern name for Go in China is weiqi, meaning the "surrounding game." Approximately 4000 years old, it is one of the oldest surviving games in the world. The object of Go is to secure territory by surrounding it with stones of only one color. The winner is the player who has succeeded in occupying the largest territory with the least number of captured stones. This year, the Go Club has been very active, demonstrating to other students the strategy and skill required to win.

Rowing Club

An unforgettable experience: waking up at the crack of dawn, getting into your rowing attire, and heading down to the Edmonton Rowing Club. The crisp morning air and glass-like river only inspires you more to get into a boat and enjoy the wonderful sensation of rowing. You place your hands on an oar and feel the magic pulsating through your veins. Your first stroke creates tiny ripples in the water, simultaneously sending ripples of joy up your spine. The morning sun shines brightly on you and your rowing team. The rhythm of your oar with the others is truly an action of beauty. Stroke after stroke your team ventures up and down the river. Now has come the time when this wonderful experience must come to an end and you must go back to reality. But you are not worried because it will only be couple of days until you get to experience it all over again.

The Muse

The Muse is an inspired committee consisting of two students and three teachers, including Joanne Kienholz, Carmen Laser, Mr. Smilanich, Mrs. Horwood and Ms. Ellison, who motivate other students to enhance their creative writing skills. Written work is essential to pass on information between people, and history and culture between generations of people. It is an "outpouring of emotion" and a physical form of one's thoughts. By requesting student submissions of both prose and poetry, members of the Muse encourage Titans to express their imagination in writing. After a grueling selection process, the top pieces of writing were awarded cash prizes and are publicized in a special issue of the Titanic.

Jeff Armstrong

Remembering Granddaddy

by Adrienne Wong

Sitting
on his bony knees,
I inhaled the aroma of sweet tobacco
clinging to his sweater.
Then he read Rapunzel
and cackled
"Rapunzel, Rapunzel,
let down your long hair,
I will climb it like a stair!"
High pitched giggles
deepened the creases
'round his eyes.
Tucking me in,
he whispered good-night
soft as a last farewell and I drifted to sleep
knowing he stood in the doorway.

Amnesty International

Amnesty International is a worldwide campaigning movement that works to promote all the human rights enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other international standards. In particular, Amnesty campaigns to free all prisoners of conscience; ensure fair and prompt trials for political prisoners; abolish the death penalty, torture and other cruel treatment of prisoners; end political killings and "disappearances;" and oppose human rights abuses by opposition groups. There are about a million members and supporters in 162 countries and territories, including all those at Ainlay. Activities range from public demonstrations to letter-writing, from human rights education to fundraising concerts, from individual appeals on a particular case to global campaigns on a particular issue.

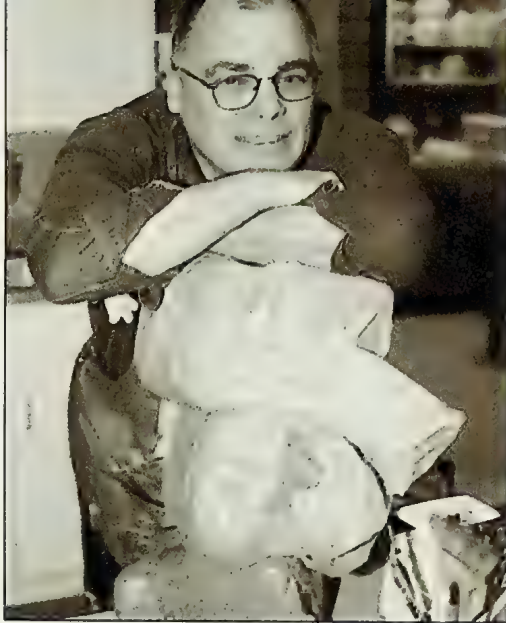

P.A.L.S.

The goal of Peer Ambassador Leadership Students is to help ESL or new students to adapt to Harry Ainlay High School and Edmonton. PALS International meets in room 331 on Tuesdays and Wednesdays for the first half of the year. By the end of the year, students have already adapted. On Tuesdays, the leadership students help with tutoring, while Wednesdays are for fun activities, including cards, chess, pot-luck, pumpkin carving, and making Christmas cookies. PALS International has also set-up field trips for Spooktacular at Fort Edmonton Park and the Festival of Trees on Christmas. PALS is a club that lets other students experience new cultures around the world.

Pottery

This year, the Pottery Club experienced an unprecedented popularity as it involved over 30 students who enjoy getting their hands a little dirty for a few hours after school. Supervised by Mr. Miller, the Pottery studio has been a sight of busy activity every tuesday and thursday after school.

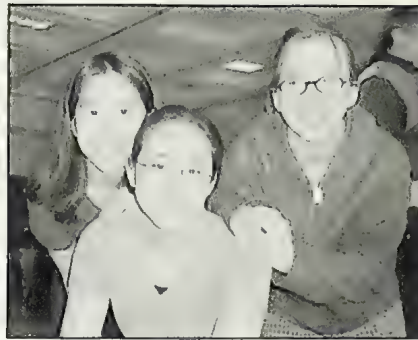

Scuba Club

The 1999-2000 SCUBA Club had a fantastic year under Mrs. Boos's supervision. After months of fundraising and planning, all twelve members went to the West Coast to dive.

For a few days during Spring Break, Ocean Sports and Mr. and Mrs. Boos accompanied us to Victoria. Beginner students completed their Open Water Certification while the senior students completed their Advanced Certification. Despite slightly cold water temperatures, we had a great time exploring the under water life and were even able to catch and eat crabs.

Students' Union

This year has been very successful where student activities, both new and old, have played prominent roles in developing positive character traits. In the rotunda, we encouraged involvement and innovation through activities such as Millennium Week, Halloween Activities, Karaoke as well as countless others. By bringing the entire school together, like with outdoor assemblies, we developed a heightened sense of school spirit. Daylong events, like Touch of Class, provided students with pride and a sense of ownership of their school.

The President's Message

The 1999-2000 school year has come and gone; memories have begun to fade as each of us moves on to new, more exciting things.

"Success is measured not by what one has done, but what one has become."

We should all be proud of our accomplishments throughout the past years, but more importantly, we should be proud of who we have become: true Harry Ainlay Titans -- ones who demonstrate excellence in all things, and ones who have proven the capability of doing anything at all. "We are the Titans!"

In twenty years, as you look back at this yearbook, remember how the "Ainlay experience" has contributed to who you have become -- you will always be a Titan!

Sam Jenkins
Students' Union President

Community contributions gave us, as students, a chance to develop our community, like with the Junior High Leadership Conference, A Walk Around the World, and the Food Bank Challenges. Complimented by TVT, Tri-Prov, CultureFest, the Blood Donor Clinic, Awards Night and Graduation, Titans have put much more into the school and community than ever thought possible. That makes me proud to be a member of the graduating class of Harry Ainlay High School; it makes me proud to be a Titan.

Dance Club

This year, the dance club was very active meeting on a regular basis on Tuesdays after school. Under the staff leadership of Ms. Munroe, Mr. Kennedy and Ms. Pombert, everybody who participated had a great time.

Ping Pong

A great man once said: "Ping Pong is a good sport and everyone should play it". And so, with the creation of the Ping Pong Club, this man's prophesy was made into a reality. One of the greatest myths in the modern world is that "Ping Pong is for sissy-wimps." Quite the contrary! Did you know that Ping Pong trains hand-eye coordination? And that Ping Pong, with the exception of 26 other sports, is one of the quickest games there is? As many a man will confess, Ping Pong is TRULY one of the greatest sports around. And, as the second year of intense Ping Pong action at Ainlay winds down to a close, a small part of everyone's heart will mourn. Against all odds, Ping Pong has revealed to the common man the essence of humanity. Harsh are destiny's winds which buffet the shoals of time. But we must remember: It was, it is, and it always will be... A smash!

Titan Tradition

The masterminds behind the yearbook you see before you have spent countless hours of stress, sweat, stress, tears, and (did I mention) stress putting this book together. Now you ask, why did we do this? The reason is because we care so much about you -- the people who bought the book.

With deadlines looming in the horizon, there were never enough hours in the day to finish taking pictures and designing layouts. Nevertheless, with such a committed and talented team, you now have before you a fabulously designed yearbook.

Swim Team

Throughout the season, members of the Swim Team trained hard in everything from freestyle and backstroke to breaststroke and fly. At the City Finals, Ainlay came in third place with Caitlin Davis, Ryan Dube, Zak Murakami and Brad Hawker as gold medalists. A relay team comprising of Ryan Dube, Zak Murakami, Jack Lee and Jason Ramcharan won gold as well.

Badminton

The month of February rolled in and the 1999-2000 badminton team was ready to have a smashing good time. The team's advisors, Ms. Ito-Fedrau, Ms. Skrypnek, and Ms. Campbell, put in their effort and time to coach the team to a very successful season. During noon hours, the team practiced three times a week to tune up their badminton skills. The badminton team was made up of twenty three very devoted players, all of which performed extraordinarily at the Edmonton Zone championships, placing second next to Jasper Place. Sonia Delhon, Joseph Cheung, and Keith Lee all won gold at the city finals, bringing their skills up to another level at the provincial championships. Great job players!!

Waterpolo

The Waterpolo Team practiced every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, either in the morning as early as 6 a.m. or even after school. Competitions were held on the Fridays of every week. In the big competition, tensions rose, but all the team members swam their hardest and played to the best of their ability. In the end, the team placed fourth overall, losing by only one point in the semifinals. A great season was played by all team members.

Shoot for it!

It was another great season for the Titan basketball teams as they all carried on the tradition of excellence on the basketball court. Highlights of the Men's season included tournament wins at the Paul Kane Invitational, St. Francis Invitational, and our own Tri-Prov Tournament. The Titans were impressive at the 4A Provincials, advancing to the final before losing a close game to the Ross Sheppard Thunderbirds. The Senior Women's had their third consecutive undefeated season in league play and won the ninth straight City Championship. They also had a great tournament in San Diego, California in addition to winning the 18-team Alberta Classic Tournament.

Cheer Team

The cheer team enjoyed one of their most successful and exciting years in 2000. The team won second place at the Victoria Competition, first at the J. Percy Page Invitational, then second in both cities and provincials. On March 16, the team spent five sunny days in California touring Universal Studios and Disneyland, shopping, swimming, and later participating in a national competition. After a fun and memorable week, we returned to Edmonton, finishing a great season.

Cross Country

Our runners were extremely successful under the supervision of coaches R. Cowen, D. Holt, and M. Suderman. They met during the months of September and October before there was too much snow. All those who participated strived for their own personal goals, while supporting and encouraging one another toward those goals. Not only is running fun, but it is also a great way to relax, and relieve stress caused by a hectic school schedule. Everyone had an enjoyable time, making friendships and keeping their bodies in excellent condition. Keep up the good work Titans!

Golf Team

The golf club includes people of different skill levels and allows for those participating to have an enjoyable time. In the fall at Fort Saskatchewan, team members participated in a tournament where they received ninth place. Deepest gratitude toward both coaches Mr. Hignell and Mrs. Bandola. The efforts of the members have not gone unrecognized as it was a great season before the new millenium.

Rugby

Rugby. What is it? It can be described as a game with two hookers, two teams going at it both ways for sixty minutes. Some say it's brutal, the players think it's fun. One rule: never say you're sorry. Why not? 'Cause you know you don't mean it. People wonder what's the difference between rugby and football? Well for one, the rugby balls are always bigger and the bruises are always larger. It's just a game until someone gets hurt, then it's a sport. Rugby's definitely a sport.

Curling

Harry Ainlay's curling teams participated in the Greater Edmonton School Curling League from October to the end of January. One of the senior boys' teams consisting of Jordan Wilson, Ryan Taylor, Keith Parker, and Geoffrey Armstrong finished second in the B event of the league play-downs, also obtaining a fourth place finish in the senior boys' division of the city finals. Some teams also entered several week-end bonspiels during the season for experience in competitive curling. All of our curlers are congratulated for their good sportsmanship and efforts in making this season a success. A sincere thank-you is extended to all parents who came out to support the curlers.

Wrestling

Our wrestlers were extremely successful under the supervision of Coach Bombier and Mr. Matichuk. Competing in City's and Salsbury tournaments, as well as those at the University of Alberta, several members won gold and placed in the top five in their weight categories, proceeding to the Provincials in Red Deer. Ainlay made an excellent showing with several gold and silver medals in addition to many respectable placings by our wrestlers. Congratulations to all the team members who made Ainlay one of the most respected wrestling teams in the city.

Track Team

Ainlay had its best year in Tack & Field since 1987. Led by a strong Jr Men's team, which won their division, the Titans finished a strong 2nd at the City Championships with only 31 athletes. Thirteen of those athletes qualified to represent Harry Ainlay & Edmonton at the Provincial Championships in Lethbridge where Ainlay finished 3rd over all. There were several outstanding Gold medal performances at both the Cities and Provincials: Colin Ambsbaugh (4 City, Provincial); Mark Cocks (2 City); Elaine Hua (3 City); Derek Proudfoot (City, Provincial); Mike Olsen (City).

This year marks the end of High School Competition for both Kerri Crozier, three year Titan, and Elaine Hua who was a Titan for only a year. Congratulations to all paricipants for an outstanding year of Track & Field. Coach Powell Touchdown!!

Junior Football

Harry Ainlay's Junior football team had a very successful year. We were able to bring home the Tier 2 trophy for winning the Consolation Final. The team was made up of all Grade 10 students, eight of them fourteen years old, and only one Grade 11 student. This is significant in a league where most teams use a blend of Grade 11 and Grade 10 students. For our team to win this trophy is a huge accomplishment. We had an outstanding backfield made up of 4 of the leagues finest running backs. What we didn't have in size, we made up for in skill. The benefits of a good season such as this one will be felt by next year's Senior Team, as I believe we are sending on twenty good football players to their program.

Thanks to all the fans who came out and cheered us on. We look forward to seeing you again next year. Good luck to all our graduating players.

Senior Football

The Senior Titans football team finished the year with four wins and four losses to finish fifth place in the league. The season was marked by terrific individual performances by a number of our players. Regan Kroll, Neil Theissen, Jeff Montgomery and Anthony Oliver each led the league in their statistical category, but unfortunately this did not translate into enough team victories. Jeff Montgomery and Anthony Oliver shared the team's 'most valuable player' honors, while Al Bhanji was selected as the team's 'most valuable lineman.' Pascal Kokke was chosen as 'Rookie of the Year.'

Ainlay fills student lives with all kinds of activities outside the classrooms. In September, the outdoor assembly is very popular. During the winter months, countless activities occur in the rotunda during noon hours. A Touch of Class, Second Languages Week, CTS Week, and Culture Fest are but a few examples.

Events

Set it Off!

The Titan Volleyball Tournament celebrated its 20th anniversary in the final year of the millennium. Over the past two decades, this tournament has showcased the finest teams and athletes in Western Canada and we continued this rich tradition this year with TVT XX. With such a dynamic array of talent, TVT XX produced the highest echelon of volleyball action. Twenty teams from four provinces across Canada competed for gold in our largest tournament ever. Featuring three different venues at Harry Ainlay,

D.S. MacKenzie and Grant MacEwan College, over 140 matches were played over the course of three days. As always, the dedicated effort of hundreds of student volunteers, teachers and sponsors made TVT XX a resounding success as we helped "Set it Off" at Ainlay. From the action packed Opening Ceremonies to the tension filled Finals, the experiences and moments from this tournament will be etched into the memories of everyone involved for years to come. Congratulations to our Senior Women's team who won the bronze medal and our Senior Men's team who lost a hard fought final to claim the silver. Special thanks to the student executive committee and the staff advisors, Mr. Olsen and Mr. Poon whose tireless commitment made this tournament possible.

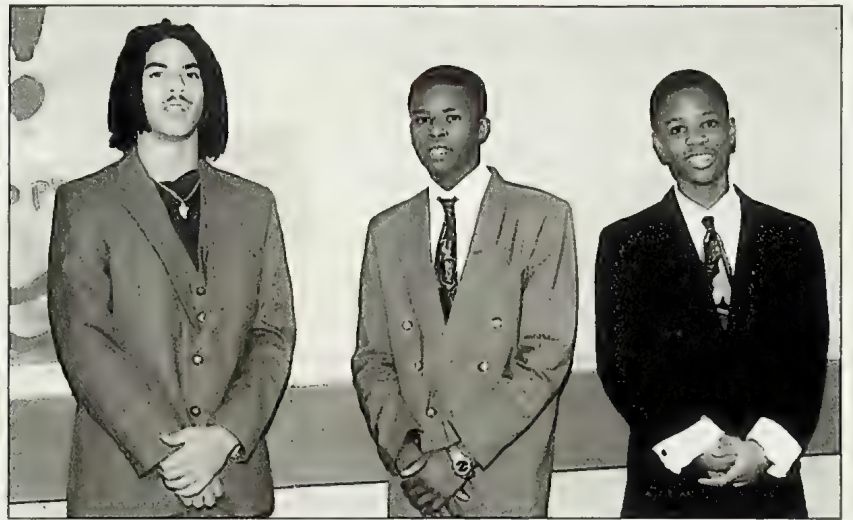

The next twenty years of TVT will definitely echo the spirit of competition that the last twenty have embodied.

Touch of Class

On December 8, 1999, Ainlay students and staff enjoyed the second annual "Touch Of Class" day. Arriving at school in their finest attire, ladies were greeted with carnations, while hors d'oeuvres were served to the rest of the school. Classical music and dancing entertained everyone in the rotunda during the lunch hour. At the end of the day, Titans were able to attend a formal gala event held by the Students' Union. Without doubt, this event will flourish.

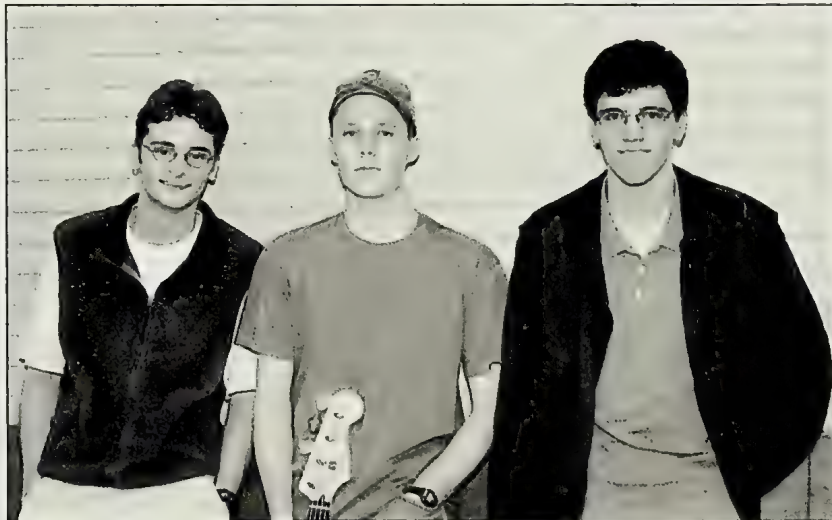

Battle of The Bands

On March 23, Ainlay's annual Battle of the Bands contest took place. Spectators had the pleasure of sampling the music stylings of new and upcoming musicians. Bands performed hit songs and personal creations in the hopes of winning first prize. From the assortment of various musical talents, one band surpassed all the others to take home first prize: ELIXIR. All Bands that performed displayed their unique abilities and all deserve congratulations. Battle on Bands!!!

Blasting into the New Millennium

Millennium week was held at Harry Ainlay during the week of January 4 - 7. For all the purists out there, the new millennium doesn't begin until next year, but for the rest of us, it was welcomed by taking a look back at our favorite decades of the past century. Memories were revived of the 80s with some classic Nintendo. Just some ol' Mario, Contra and Zelda. Massive amounts of hairspray and gel were used to recreate the hairstyles of the 70s, including the afro, of course. And we can't forget the giant game of Twister in the middle of the rotunda to bring us back to the 60s. The week finished off with a jive, jump and wail as a swing contest showed off the talents of our fellow Titans -- a tribute to the 50s. There won't be fun like this for another thousand years!

CultureFest 2000

Ainlay's rotunda came to life once again as we celebrated United in Diversity at CultureFest 2000! Lively music, incredible performances, unique foods, intriguing displays and daring activities filled every lunch hour during the week of March 6th - 9th. Nigerian, Metis, East Indian, Latin American, Scottish, Chinese and Bosnian dances, demonstrations and songs amazed students and staff alike. Hilarious activities like the Spice Eating Contest, sparked attention, while the challenging "Where in the World is Carmen San Diego?" intrigued our rotunda contestants. To touch off the excitement of the week, a cultural fashion show let students and staff strut their stuff! Whiffs of traditional foods and spices tantalized taste buds throughout the school. From sushi to tuisamasu, perogies to samosas, there was something new to savor everyday! Not only were Titans able to appreciate their cultures, we were able to help other children in Nairobi, Kenya. Once again, the generosity and compassion of the Titan spirit shone through! Without the contribution of our dedicated volunteers, performers, community groups, donors, and the committee, CultureFest 2000 wouldn't have been the true success it was!

Science Olympics

Each year, high schools across Edmonton compete in Science Olympics to showcase their mastery of physics, chemistry and biology. Once again, "The victory fell upon us"! "The Red Terror," consisting of Eugene Chan, Kenman Gan, Sarah Lai, Karr-Hong Lee, Keith Lee and Weiyang Liu, won Third Place Overall plaques and were invited to the APEGGA Summit Awards.

In addition, their popsicle stick "Hercules' Pillar" held over 800 lbs. to win the gold medal at Regionals, first place at Provincials and a $400 award.

Our Grade 10 team included Dustin Wenger, Eric Lau, Al Moloo, James Yeung, Ding Zhang, Michael Dickau and Matthew Chute. Before the day was over, their "Robo-Kicker" had caught the eye of an ITV reporter, so the team consequently appeared on the evening news.

Other members of Ainlay's Science Olympics Club include Vivian Giang, Michael Cheung, Yang Li, Clement Ting, Eric Tong, Alvin Law, Jonathan Lee, Jonathan Mah, Joseph Cheung and Jason Wong.

Special thanks to Mr. Sprysak and Ms. Bandola for the support and encouragement, and a big, big, big thank-you to Ms. Fischer, whose time, effort, dedication and perseverance was without a doubt the driving force behind Ainlay's Science Olympics success.

Open House

Ainlay's Open House was held on March 9 of this year, giving both teachers and students alike an opportunity to show off their Ainlay pride and spirit. Through displays and presentations, we were able to reveal what this school is really all about, showcasing everything we have to offer to those lucky students who choose to make Ainlay their home away from home. Ainlayans demonstrated their excellence in academics and athletics, while at the same time exposing their talent in the arts and trades.

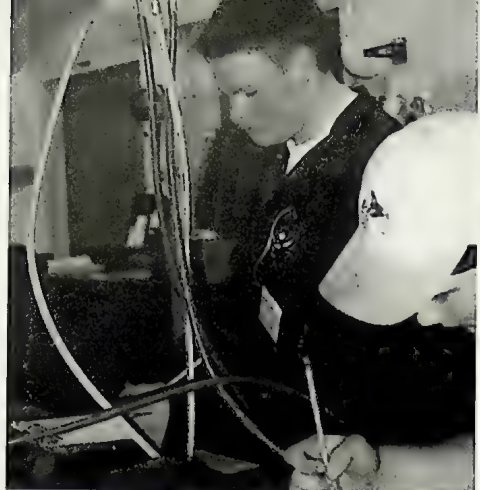

The hard work that Ainlayans put into Open House will surely pay-off by attracting future Ainlayans to attend this superb school.

A time for giving

May 23 was a time for giving. Throughout the day, a blood donor clinic was set up in the small gym, where students flocked in to give to a very worthy cause: blood donation. From 9:00 a.m. to 2:45 p.m., Titans gave up their time to donate their blood, while others came with friends to offer moral support along with our own Bam Bam. Bam Bam even found a friend, Billy the Blood Drop, who accompanied him on the mission. Titans understand the importance of blood donation. Unfortunate people and families suffer everywhere with critical conditions and require healthy blood to survive. Once again, Titans showed their spirit by reaching out to the community, while helping to save lives. Great Job Ainlay!

Skills Canada

On March 18, Ainlay students competed in the Skills Canada Regional Competition at NAIT to demonstrate their skills in the trades. Davina Chan received a gold medal in Baking, Adelle Stelmaschuk won silver in Baking and Rashi Khullar placed sixth in Culinary Art. All three students went on to compete in the Provincial Skills Competitions held at SAIT in Calgary on May 4. Other students who participated included Andrew Anderson, Mike Russnak, Susan Hsieh, Henry Yan, Michelle Dave, Simon Kan, Austin Cheng, Darcie Schempp, Ernie Harrison, Raymond Wong, Edward Aronyk, Sam Jenkins, Chris St. Dennis and Pat Checkel. The Ainlay squad competed hard and enjoyed themselves.

Raymond Wong, Jesse Li, Ernie Harrison and Andrew Anderson also competed in the Skills Canada Cardboard Boat Race, winning the competition for our school once again. You make us proud!

Encounters with Canada

Back Row: Kate Hanneman, (L to R) Deanna Gerard, Ryan Adam, Genevieve Shih, Ms. Newbold

Missing: Alana Christensen, Laura Chant, Tania Dickau

Encounters with Canada was an experience of a life time. Viv Giang, Judy Tran, Laura Chant, Tania Dickau, Kate Hanneman, Genevieve Shih, Karin Stangeland, Erin Meier, Deanna Gerard, Alana Christensen and Maureen Eng had the privilege to travel to Ottawa for a week to meet other teenagers from across Canada. Each week had a set theme, like Sports and Fitness, Science and Technology, Canadian Experience, and Journalism and Communications, where each was jam-packed with swimming, dancing, volleyball, skating, movies, plays, and a tour of the National Gallery of Canada, the Canadian War Museum, and, of course, Parliament Hill. In Ottawa, we were surrounded by friendly people who were ready to have a great time. We also had the chance to learn a little bit of French or practice our bilingual skills. Encounters with Canada was not only a learning experience, but it was a place to meet new people and to have tons of fun.

Tri Prov Tournament

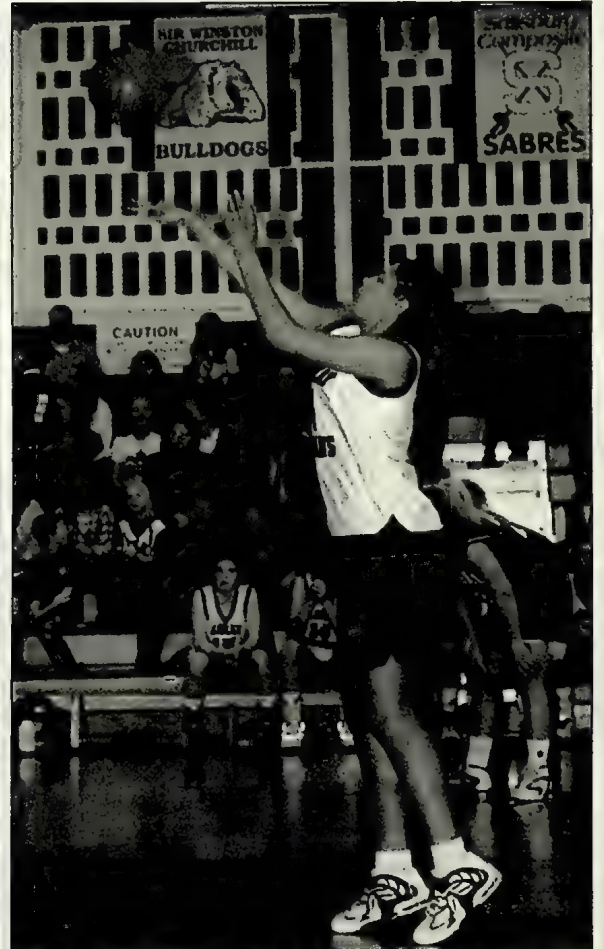

What an exceptional tournament it was! It all started with the opening ceremonies on February 10. Bam Bam displayed his normal athletic prowess and roused the excitement of the crowd. The Ainlay cheerleaders, who by now have demonstrated provincial dominance in their sport, then provided great entertainment. As if this was not enough, six dancers then came center court and continued the excitement. Wow! What a great start to a tournament!

The 27th annual Tri-Prov basketball tournament held at Ainlay from February 10 to 12 was properly titled 'Slam Dunk'. The senior boys team defeated the Jasper Place Rebels with a final score of 87-80. Mike Melnychuk racked up 28 points and was selected as the most valuable player. Despite a lot of new faces on the team, we maintained a strong game throughout the season with a 26-3 overall record.

In the girls' final, Ainlay fell 67-62 to the Sir Winston Churchill Bulldogs, the province's No. 1 squad for most of the season. Nevertheless, spectators were provided with top quality basketball.

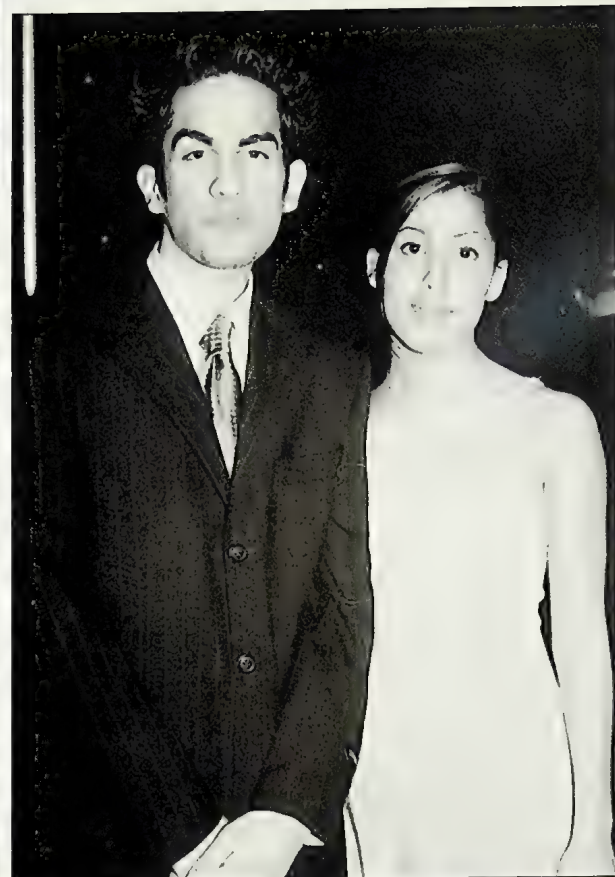

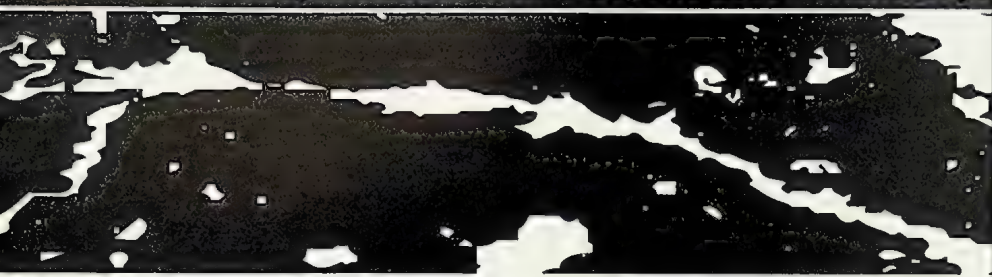

Grad Fashion Show

Early spring, in preparation for graduation, the Grade 12 students of Harry Ainlay put on a show of the season's latest fashions for the others to see. They dazzled people's eyes with different types of clothes, from capri pants to formal ball gowns which were provided by Southgate Shopping Center. It was truly a spectacular event for all!

Say good-bye to not knowing when the truth in my whole life began. Say good-bye to not knowing how to cry, you taught me that. And I'll remember the strength that you gave me, now that I'm standing on my own. I'll remember the way that you saved me, I'll remember. Inside I was a child that could not mend a broken wing. Outside I looked for a way to teach my heart to sing. And I'll remember the love that you gave me, now that I'm standing on my own. I'll remember the way that you changed me, I'll remember. I learned to let go of the illusion that we can possess, I learned to let go, I travel in stillness. And I'll remember happiness, I'll remember (I'll remember, I'll remember). And I'll remember the love that you gave me, now that I'm standing on my own. I'll remember the way that you changed me, I'll remember. No I've never been afraid to cry, now I finally have a reason why. I'll remember (I'll remember). No I've never been afraid to cry, and I finally have a reason why. I'll remember (I'll remember). ~ I'll Remember. Madonna

President's Address

For the past twelve years, we have dreamed of our graduation day, the day when we walk across the stage in caps and gowns. Well, that dream has come true tonight. This night, our family and friends have joined us in celebrating our achievements. However, we know that this is not the end, for this is only the beginning of our lives. There is a bright future ahead of each of us, no matter what we will be doing. However, we know that what we have experienced in the past three years at Harry Ainlay have shaped us for our futures. From the friends we have made to the lessons we have learned, all these will never be forgotten.

Before we go out there and "stand on our own", I would like to leave you with some parting words. Each and every one of you are unique. Don't let anyone tell you what to do, for you make the final decisions for your life. You do what is best for you. Stand firm on what you want, and never give up.

I wish you, students of the graduating class of 2000, happiness and success in all that you do.

Cara Lee

Trustee's Address

The credit for making it this far belongs in part to you. You've devoted the time and effort that brought you to these commencement exercises.

Congratulations!

There must have been times when this day seemed very far away. The turn of the century was some remote point in the future. You kept going even when you may have been tired of school, overwhelmed by assignments or pending exams, stressed by relationships or the challenge of balancing time commitments.

And, here you are tonight "standing on your own" to receive your diploma.

Motivational Blessing

My prayer for you tonight is not for wealth or fame, nor power or prestige, not even for university degrees or long life. Rather, I am asking God to send you a treasure of far greater worth: I am praying that love will forever reign in your hearts. For love is true and gentle, love is the eyes of faith that see past the clouds to the rainbow shining through. Love cares more for others than for self. Love never gives up, never looks back, but keeps going to the end. May your lifelong journey be filled with love- with a passion for others, a passion to live each sweet and precious day to its utmost. May each day bring you a step closer to all that you hope to achieve- all that your heart desires. And as you go forth, as leaders of this generation, with your hearts full of compassion, with a treasure of hope, with a step of faith, may you soar with the wings of eagles, may you walk and not grow faint. Throwing off everything that so easily entangles and running with perseverance to win the reward, not of a life lived long, but a life well lived, full of blessing, treasuring every moment and seizing every opportunity. My prayer for you, my dear friends, is not just for this evening, but it is . . . for ETERNITY. May God greatly bless you.

Unspoken Words

Too much may be said but too little heard, so one can only hope that the unspoken words will leave their mark, that the silent words will be heard.

So listen...

You will look in the mirror and see your new self.

You will look around and be really impressed.

You will look to the future, so very near,
and see your life so very clear,

where the memories will always stay near:

too sweet to taste, too strong to bear,
but always able to touch you in the most untouchable ways!

Remember it all and never forget.

Cherish it all and never regret.

Look to your future but always smile,
for these precious years.

You have sculpted yourself in three brief years, and

I hope you do not see that your reflection comes from someone else,

because there is too little time to be someone else!

Please keep your family and friends close and HEY!

Do not just run away!

Do not become numb!

Truly realize the beauty of simplicity, and the power of understanding.

Feel that glow in your heart: dream, imagine, enrich and be enriched.

Be kind and in so doing you will touch the lives of many.

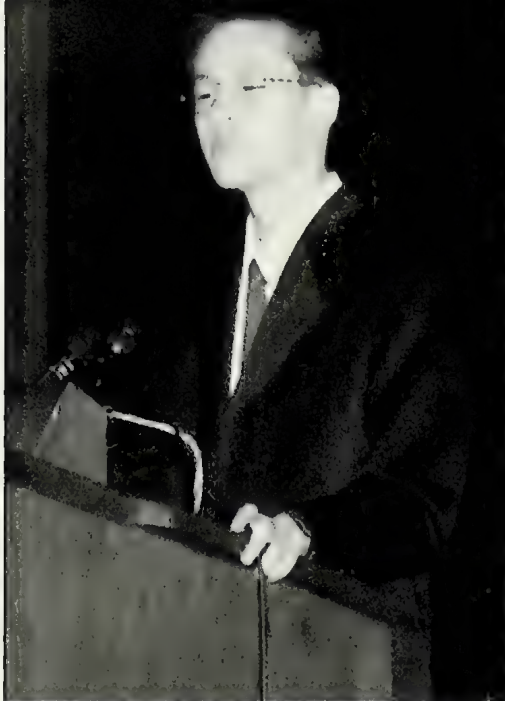

Learn how to be happy;

simply strip away the pretense and expose your true self.

Make a difference, stand up, follow your passion, laugh, cry, and just expose your whole being to the beauty this world has to offer.

And yes, never fail to look around you, and learn.

Valedictorian

Today, we are gathered here to celebrate the end of our years as Harry Ainlay Titans.

Over the past three years, Ainlay has provided us with more than just a warm environment for our education. At Ainlay, we have laughed, we have cried, we have lived. But most importantly, we have become a family. And as there are almost 600 of us gathered here today, that makes this family one of the largest graduating classes in Canada.

As the graduating class of the millenium, we are both awed and inspired by what awaits us in the years ahead: Our parents spoke of Marshall McLuhan's global village, but we are living it; people even on the other side of the globe are just a click of a mouse away; Biotechnology brings new cures for disease and new solutions for world hunger; and microcomputer and internet advances prove that ours is truly a generation that lives, and will continue to live in compressed times.

However, despite modern innovations, many problems haunt us still – world poverty, degradation of the environment, reduction in biodiversity, political conflict. In this Brave New World, we must be flexible in our thinking and tolerant in our attitude towards many points of view. Fellow graduands, with the solid foundation which Ainlay has provided for us, let us meet these challenges head on and do our part toward making our blue planet a better place to live.

First of all, we must thank our families. You have not only raised us and nurtured us, but also loved us, supported us, and encouraged us. In the past, it may have seemed that we turned a deaf ear whenever you told us to clean our room, or to do our homework. But once we stopped the cussing and the whining, we realized deep down, that you had our best interests at heart. Inside, we listen to your words, we appreciate your direction, and we plan on using those same teaching strategies on your grandchildren. To the moms and dads, brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles, and grandparents out there this evening, thank-you for everything.

We must also thank our school mates: Pals who not only joked and laughed with us in the fun times, but also friends who comforted us during those moments when we just needed someone to talk to. Thank you for being there, rain or shine. Tonight, let us also celebrate our everlasting friendship.

Finally, on behalf of the graduating class, I would also like to thank the teachers, the administrators, and the support staff at Harry Ainlay. I know that in the past, we have not always shown you the respect which you deserve – we've talked in class, we've left our garbage on the floor, we've flunked a few tests and we've come to class late a few times – but teachers, you should feel proud of yourself today, for turning out yet another big batch of responsible and independent adults. Your teaching, guidance, role modeling, and even your jokes and your favorite clothes, will be preserved in our memories forever.

With the diplomas, speeches, farewells and tears that will fill today and tomorrow's programs, we celebrate our graduation as if it were an end. Remember however, that today is not an end, but a beginning. From here, we will be released into the world – perhaps for college or university, perhaps for travel, perhaps for the workforce. From here, we will begin the rest of our lives. Thus, although we must celebrate our past successes today, it is perhaps even more important, to continue succeeding in the future.

In 1942, Sir Winston Churchill imparted a similar message to his country and all the world, and tonight, I leave you with his words: "It is not the end. It is not even the beginning of the end. But it is, perhaps, the end of the beginning".

Top Gun Parody
 Fade music out
 Fred and Andrew enter stage

Andrew: Good evening Ladies and Gentlemen, 34 years ago, this school was created to train Edmonton finest, brightest and most talented students ever.

Fred: The best of the best of the best Sir!

Andrew: This year, Harry Ainlay has the most highly trained and equipped graduates of all; unfortunately they could only find us to be your 1999/2000 class historians.

Fred: My name is Fred, call sign: Seek.

Andrew: And I'm Andrew, call sign: Destroy.

Both: Together we are Seek and Destroy HAHAA.

Fred: We may not be the sharpest cheeses in the dairy section...

Andrew: Or the baldest eagles in the flock,

Fred: But they gave us the job anyways so here we goes: It all goes back to that fateful night in 1982 when mom was rushed to the hospital....

Andrew: Not that far back Fred!

Fred: It all started in Grade nine with the decision between Ainlay and Scona.

Andrew: They both have their strong points, Ainlay looks like a correctional institute, with no windows and all, but Scona... I just can't justify going to a school where the bathrooms look the same as the hallways.

[Cue picture of Scona hallways/bathrooms]

Fred: Yeah the choice was pretty easy, home school!

Andrew: No Fred, remember we chose Ainlay, here we are!!!

Fred: Right, after a long restful summer we came to the first day of Grade 10.

Andrew: Who could forget the first day of grade 10?

Fred: New Jeans...

Andrew: Nice shirt...

Fred: Fresh Acne.

Andrew: We were all set to embark on the greatest 3 years of our lives. Until [Dun, dun, dun] we had to find our first class...

Fred: How many of you walked into the wrong room that morning? [Andrew puts up his hand] Really? Tell us about it.

Andrew: W-w-w-well, I-I-I walked into A-a-a-uto Th-th-thirty and the f-f-f-ootball jocks h-h-hung me from one of the I-I-lockers solely by my underwear. [Picture of Andrew Hanging from locker]

Fred: There, there Andrew, it's okay. That year both the Senior Men and Women Basketball teams took the gold at the 25th annual Tri-Prov.

Andrew: But Fred, I think something slightly more important happened in grade 10.

Fred: What was that?

[Cue titanic sound track Look around]

Andrew: Rose, come over here [Fred walks over]. Close your eyes, and spread your arms out. Now, open your eyes.

Fred: I'm flying Jack...

Both: Shudder,

Fred: Moving right along, Grade 11 was a year of firsts, we kicked it all off with the first annual Harry Ainlay Pep rally, which really gave the sports teams a kick.

Andrew: Yeah, the waterpolo team lost again...

Fred: But hey the Senior Men's and Women's Volleyball teams won cities.

Andrew: Yeah, and the Cheer team won provincials.

Fred: And don't forget the most important championship of all, we won provincials in Band.

Andrew: Band?

Fred: What's wrong with that?

Andrew: Nothing, nothing at all.

Fred: Other firsts included Ainlaypaloza...

Andrew: Touch of Class Day....

Fred: And Andrew, you are forgetting the most important first of all... Keanu Reeves was in his first movie that was good!

Andrew: Fred, Have you ever wondered: What is The Matrix?

Fred: Unfortunately, no one can be told what the Matrix is.

Andrew: But if you could tell me, what would you say?

Fred: Image is nothing; thirst is everything, Obey your thirst.

Andrew: FRED what are you doing!!! You can't say that, our school and our very own lives are owned by Pepsi; Sprite is a Coke product.

Fred: You know Andrew; it is not unusual to drink Pepsi at school!

Andrew: It's not unusual to have fun at school!!!

Fred: And it's certainly not unusual to have fun with anyone!!!

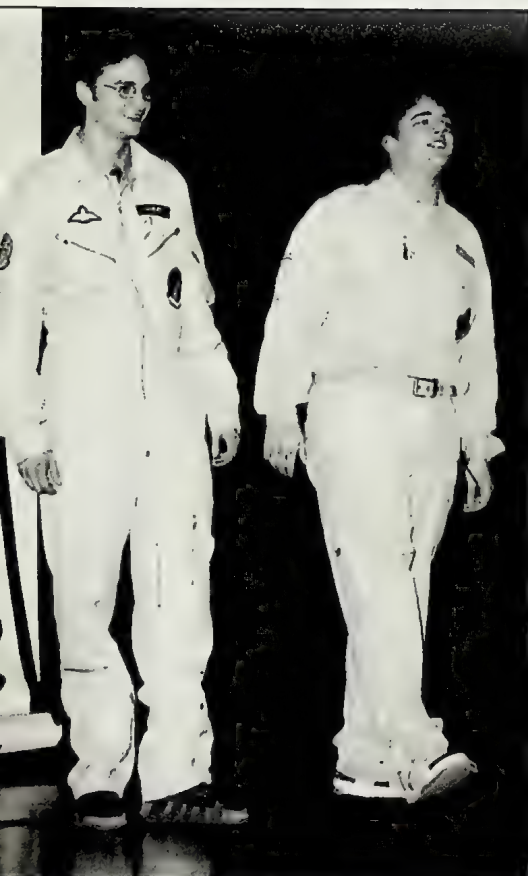

["It's not unusual" and dance]

Andrew: This year has been pretty good too hasn't it?

Fred: It's gone by so fast though... between diplomas and grad stuff I've had no time to go to the gym.

Andrew: You go to the gym?

Fred: [In buff voice] Excuse me, could you show me the way to the gym, is it that way? Or is it over here? Or maybe it's right here. No, I think it is up there.

Andrew: Careful Fred, you might rip your shirt...
Fred: Okay I'll put these bad boys away.

Andrew: Hey, do you know who is actually buff?

Fred: No who?

Andrew: Mr. Jack, have you seen his handstands and stuff?

Fred: His what? [Cue Mr. Jack Picture] Wow, now that's impressive, but do you know who else is buff?

Andrew: Who?

Fred: I think it must be time to play "Who Wants to be a Millionaire".

[Millionaire Sound effect Cue slide]

Who is the buffest in this list?

A: The "Big D" Mr. Demaine

B: The Big Bopper Miss Baker

C: String Bean Poole

D: The extremely huge and buff Mr. Regis Philbin

Andrew: Oh that's tough.

Fred: Well you can use one of your lifelines.

Andrew: I think I am going to have to call someone.

Fred: Okay, who would you like to call?

Andrew: Mr. McCaughan.

Fred: Thanks to Telus mobility we will have him on the line in just one second.

Mr. McCaughan: Hello.

Fred: Hi this is Fred Tappenden, my brother here has a question for you.

Andrew: Hi, Mr. McCaughan who is the buffest person on this list... is it A: the "Big D" Mr. Demaine...

Mr. McCaughan: It's Demaine.

Andrew: Are you sure?

Mr. McCaughan: I have worked with Mr. Demaine for quite a number of years and I must say, his bod is the buffest I have ever seen.

Andrew: Okay, thanks Mr. McCaughan, Fred, I'm going with A.

Fred: So you're going with A.

Andrew: Yes.

Fred: Is that your final answer? (Andrew nods) Pause

Fred: You've got it for 1 dollar.

Andrew: Wohoo... that will buy me one 5-cent candy at the school store!

Fred: Hey Andrew, do you know who would be good at that show?

Andrew: No who?

Fred: The IB students...did you know that they actually run the school?

Andrew: I had my suspicions but I wasn't sure.

Fred: And they have their own secret police too. [Cue picture of Imran with hair drier]

Andrew: I don't think so Fred.

Fred: Overall, grade 12 has been pretty darn good. It will be weird next year being out of the school, I am going to miss you guys.

Andrew: I promised myself I wouldn't cry.

Fred: [Fred grabs Andrew's hand] It's okay Andrew.

Andrew: Brothers don't shake hands, Brothers gotta hug.

Andrew: Well Fred, what are you gonna do next year?

Fred: I wasn't sure, but a friend of yours helped me to discover my hidden potential. I forget his name, but I know he lives in a van... down by the river.

Andrew: Scott Dodds, this is for you: [Turn around and put weird glasses on, turns back around - Matt Foley Voice] My name is Matt Foley and I am a motivational speaker. Now, what do you wanna do with your lives? Let me tell you a little bit about myself. I am 35 years old, last week my wife ran away with a used car sales man and I live in a van down by the river. Now you probably think that your gonna go out there and grab the world by the tail and yank it down and put it in your pocket, well I have one thing to let you know, in this life you won't amount to jack squat!!! Now what do you wanna do with your life?

Fred: I wanna be a drummer

Andrew: You'll have plenty of time to be a drummer when you're living in a Van down by the river.

Fred: Alrighty then, thanks guys for hearing us out tonight

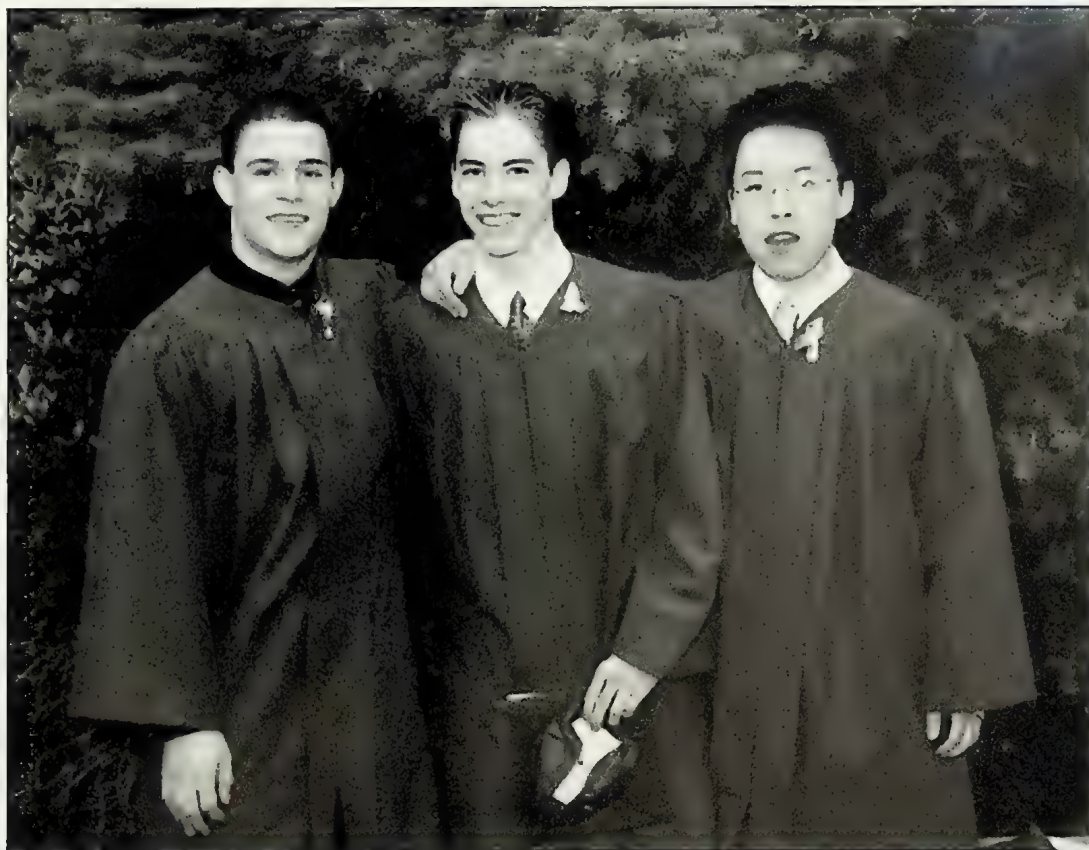

Andrew: But before we go, Fred has one last message for us all:

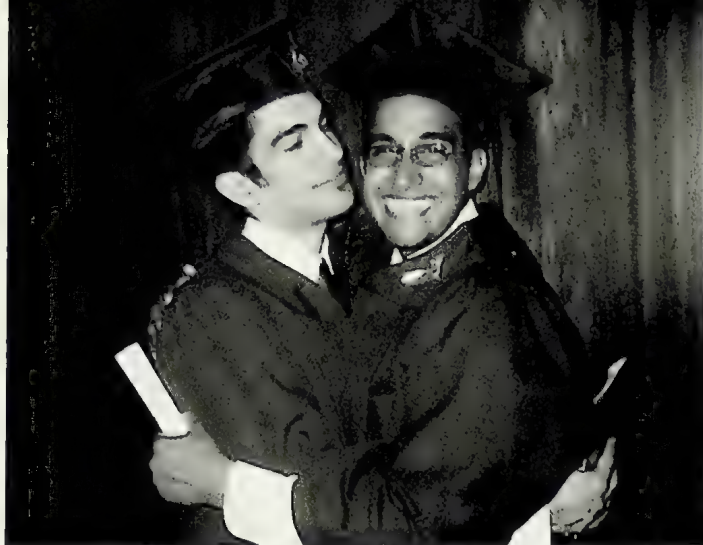

Fred: Hi, I'm not an athlete or an I.B. student. I don't go to school in a bomb shelter or eat lunch in the rotunda and I am not a preppie. I don't know Jimmy, Sally or Suzie from Harry Ainlay, although I'm certain they're really really nice. [Cue Pomp Circumstance] I have an S.U. President named Sam Jenkins, a Principal named Mike Demaine and a Head Custodian named Randy Canafranca. I eat the best cafeteria food in the city and I can proudly sew my school crest on my backpack. I believe in touch of class, not cut your class; three assistants principals, not two; and that Bam Bam is a truly proud and noble mascot. Tardiness is being late, Cheerleading is a sport, Mr. Agrell really is Santa Clause and it's Ainlay not anal, Ainlay! Harry Ainlay is the largest high school in western Canada, the first school of Basketball and Volleyball; and the best part of Edmonton. In everything Omnibus Excelsior. My name is Fred and I... we are Titans! Thank you!

[walk off stage]

Commencement

Adorned in blue gowns and caps, around 600 grads, along with well-wishers, family and friends crowded into the Jubilee Auditorium. Cameras were flashing before and after each grad walked across the stage, capturing the memorable occasion. Various speakers gave their words of wisdom, and students dazzled with their talents, in singing and dramatic speech. And after "I'll Remember" caused a few tears to fall, the graduating class of 2000, their tassles flipped, emerged victorious- they'd completed high school!

Grad Banquet

Elegance, style, class. Those attending banquet had it all. As countless flashes erupted through the Shaw Conference Centre, memories were being made and shared. Thanks to the parents, teachers, and peers who helped us make it this far!

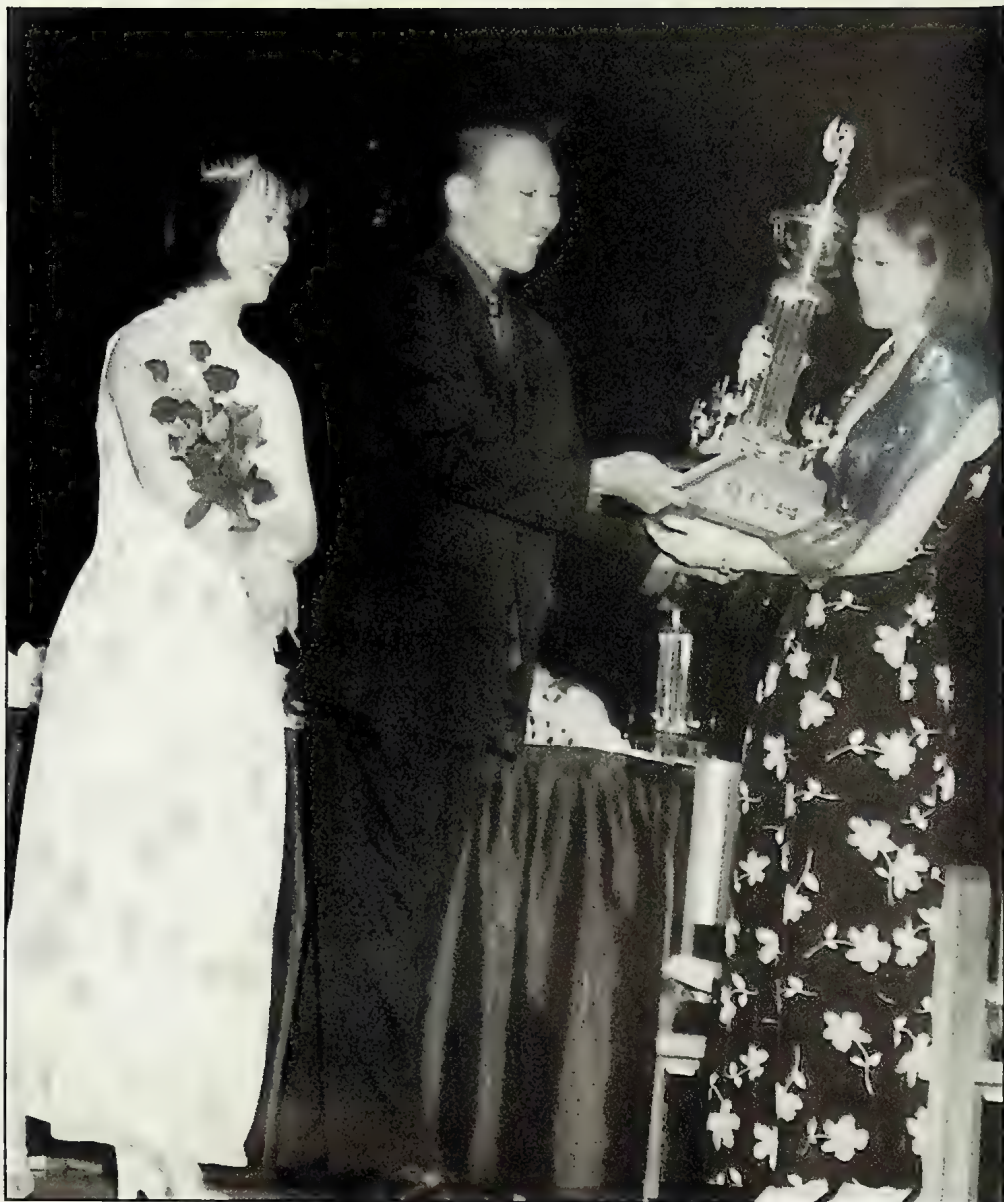

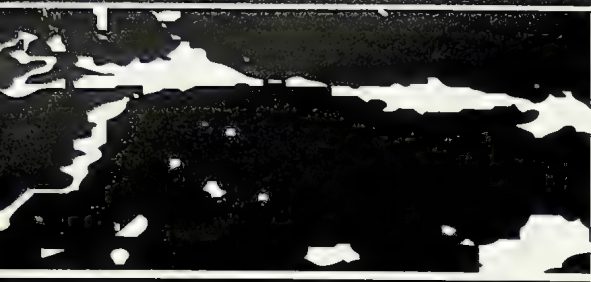

Some thought the food was "interesting," others rather enjoyed it. In spite of the dreary weather, all those attending the banquet had a magnificent time. From all the memories, grads had these ones to share.

A few final words of wisdom...

What a great year it has been. Everybody was concerned about the 'millennium bug' and held their breath as 1999 came to an end and 2000 arrived. However, with the exception of a few small glitches, the transition was smooth and all went well.

In keeping with the 'dot com' focus internationally, the Titan Tradition yearbook staff can hold their heads up proudly. Unlike previous issues of the yearbook, we leaned heavily towards digital photography. Over 40 students participated in our production, capturing images on conventional film. After being developed, the negatives were scanned into Photoshop and then imported into desktop publishing software for layout design. This gave us tremendous artistic flexibility and dramatically improved the book quality. Such efforts are appreciated by students who purchased over 1,300 books this year.

Now, a few accolades for the production crew. Sarah Lai, the editor of this year's yearbook, became affectionately known as the 'slave driver,' keeping everyone on task and productive throughout the year. It was without surprise that Sarah won the prestigious 'Stanley G. Deane' trophy on awards night, and was also awarded a commemorative Harry Ainlay ring for her service around the school. Her dedication to school activities and course work was exceptional. Sarah maintained a consistent look throughout the book, edited every layout, and completed many of the layouts herself. Last year's book, which Sarah also edited, won a second place finish in the American Scholastic Press Association Review competition.

Maureen Eng needs a special thanks as well. She assembled a crew and completed the graduation and commencement pages. Other students like Felicia Tam, Jason Wong, Ryan Williams, Austin Cheng, Samantha Mitchell, Kathy McNamara, Shannon Mather, Betsy Li, Kerri Crozier, and Elizabeth Etsell really went the extra mile by putting in endless hours doing photography and layout.

Now, behind the scenes many staff gave hours of their time. Ms. Deptuck proofed many of the grad quotes and Ms. Jewell had her students type in all the data. Mr. Agrell Smith provided all the great photos for the drama section, and helped with the layout design. Ms. Baker was a constant help collecting photos and stories for the book. One request in her direction and the job was done! Mr. Woodcock, our Herff Jones representative was always available when called upon.

Congratulations and best wishes to the honorary teacher graduands of the school: Mr. M. Demaine, Mr. A. McCaughan, Mrs. J. Tuffs, Mr. S. Sprysak, Mr. M. Dzwinel and Mrs. G. Krause who are retiring this year.

Thanks to everyone for a job well done.
